

Marriage Prep 101

Helping Couples Create a Lifetime Together

What is Marriage Prep 101?

Marriage Prep 101 is a 10 hour workshop for engaged, newlywed and seriously dating couples that teaches communication, conflict resolution and intimacy enhancement skills for couples to create successful, enduring relationships.

Marriage Prep 101 applies the latest scientific research that shows what make relationships succeed and fail. We teach couples how to communicate better, manage conflicts, avoid unhealthy relationship patterns while building intimacy, emotional connection, and resiliency.

Skill Based workshops like Marriage Prep 101 have been shown in three research studies to reduce the risk of divorce by up to 30%. The best way to "divorce-proof" your marriage is to create a long lasting relationship.

Michelle Joy, MFT and Dan Joy draw from their life experiences and their own relationship. Michelle Joy, MFT has 15 years of clinical experience in helping couples create successful relationships. Marriage Prep 101 was developed by Dr Michelle Gannon and Dr Patrick Gannon and the latest research findings about successful tools for satisfying relationships.

Michelle and Dan share humorous, insightful solutions from their own relationship which makes for an entertaining, positive experience.

Michelle and Dan know that successfully married couples need to prioritize their time together and work on their relationship in positive, proactive and intentional ways.

Welcome

Marriage Prep 101 has been described as informative, proactive, practical and fun! Marriage Prep 101 is open to couples who are seriously dating, engaged, or newlywed. We welcome people of all backgrounds, ages, faiths, and sexual orientations. Marriage Prep 101 is a class, not counseling, and your privacy will always be respected.

What To Expect

Marriage Prep 101 will be presented by lecture, leader demonstrations, workbook exercises, self guided exercises and dialogues between partners. Questions and discussion in a lively and supportive group environment round out the learning opportunities. Couples are invited to share and ask questions, but do not have to speak if they do not want to. Private personalized coaching is available by request.
